

Jake Humbles

standing for election as

Secretary & Communications Officer

(I like hats. Not fezzes, though; they're silly.)

About me

I am a first-year linguist (I do linguistics, NOT MML, and I do not specialise in any particular language, so don't ask – **angry face**). Despite scurrilous rumours to the contrary I do occasionally work, but when the burdens of Tripos permit me a break I am probably to be found singing somewhere.

My experience

I have taken minutes, and written them up as necessary, in my school Senior Prefects' meetings and in several Year Councils (even in primary school – I ~~had~~ ~~no friends~~ was super-keen).

As a volunteer in the school's archive department, I handled post from people making historical enquiries and contacted both enquirers and other organisations holding information we sought.

Somehow co-opted onto the parent-teacher association, despite being neither parent nor teacher, I have been involved in the organisation and operation of dozens of hospitality and fund-raising events, experience which I hope would be useful on the committee.

What else I will do

I can't promise monologues about small screws, but I do propose to write every bulletin in a different style. Just to keep things interesting.
