

GEORGIA KANDUNIAS FOR FIRST YEAR OFFICER

FRESHERS' WEEK ...

INCLUSIVE

- Down time! 3/4 BIG nights out interspersed with more chilled activities (no fomo for people with essays already)
- Viable non-alcoholic or optionally alcoholic alternatives to going out
- Focus on activities where drinking is 100% optional, eg. cocktail/mocktail making, pub golf, bar quizzes, all before clubbing for those who want to
- A 'something-starting-with-your-initial' bop, encouraging intermixing (to be explained...)

DAY AND NIGHT

- Chilled daytime activities, for people to get to know each other without Miley Cyrus blaring in the background, eg. a scavenger hunt around Cambridge, daytime punting tours, trips to the Fitzwilliam
- Taster sessions with College clubs and societies, for increased fresher participation
- Relaxed evening events, eg. talks at the Union, trips to Footlights and the ADC

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

- Subject teas and subject Facebook groups
- Trial a more formalised system for second years to sell old books

.... AND BEYOND ...

- A second family dinner (in-hall, to save money) and subject tea, around Week ¾
- A committee of volunteers as points of contact for specific areas, eg. computing, room issues, laundry, orientation about town, etc.

MORE FUN

- A second bop, around Week 3/4, and a pizza night in the JCR, around Week 6

... PLUS A FEW OTHER POINTS ...

1. COMMITMENT TO WELFARE

- I am approachable, responsive, and would be 100% open to listening to any problems raised and helping those struck by Coccinellidaephobia, thereby supporting the work of the Welfare Officers

2. LACK OF SOCIAL DIVISIONS

- Keys to SPT4 for everyone, and a WSB social!

SECONDER
Maggie Polk

* Self-interest is (of course) not the primary reason for my wishing to be First Year Officer. However, it bears highlighting that I would appreciate returning from my Year Abroad to a lovely group of friends in the year below.
